FoodCycle Volunteer – Critical Worker

Hello,

FoodCycle is a national charity working, to distribute food to vulnerable people across the country. Our volunteers collect surplus food from supermarkets and food distribution centres which is then given to people in need, either through deliveries or a takeaway service from community centres and places of worship. Volunteers involved in these activities are deemed as critical workers under the 'Key Public Services' category of "charities and workers delivering key frontline services"¹

This letter is to verify that bearer of this letter is a FoodCycle volunteer and is therefore deemed a critical worker. As a Critical Worker this volunteer is ensuring that we can distribute food to some of the most vulnerable people in society during this pandemic. FoodCycle is legally allowed to partake in this activity as volunteering falls under reasonable excuse to leave their home under the current 'Stay Home' guidance www.gov.uk/coronavirus.

If you have any concerns or queries regarding our volunteer's critical worker status please contact the FoodCycle team on 020 7729 2775.

Thank you for your efforts to support the most vulnerable in society during this difficult time.

Kind regards,

Mary McGrath MBE
CEO
